

MiniTec grows with acquisition of FMS solutions provider Profi-team

Basingstoke UK, July 2008: Machine building and framing specialist MiniTec

Maschinenbau GmbH, the parent company of MiniTec UK Ltd has recently acquired the Spanish flexible assembly line and belt conveyor systems company Profi-team S.A.

A new company, MiniTec Espana S.L. has been formed to provide sales and support for all of the MiniTec group products to the Spanish and South American markets and to provide a manufacturing base and technical centre for the world-wide sales of Profi-team products through MiniTec's manufacturing plants in seven countries and sales partners in over thirty countries.

The acquisition will add strength and depth to MiniTec's UK and world-wide presence with the ability to provide an even wider range of products and solutions for machine builders and OEMs. In addition to its Profile System and Linear System machine building components and systems, MiniTec UK Ltd will also be able to provide fully integrated flexible manufacturing systems as well as belt, chain and roller conveyor based assembly and test lines built to customer specifications.

Full details of these new products and services will be unveiled in the coming months.
